

2000a Series Frequency Options

- The 2000a series is available in five different frequency bands:
- U band - TV channel 38 - Up to 10 systems.
 - A yearly 'shared' licence is required to use TV channel 38, it costs £75 and is available to purchase on www.JFMG.co.uk.
 - The frequencies are set aside for professional users only, so there is a low risk of interference.
- D/G/I band - Multiple TV channels - Up to 30 systems
 - A yearly 'set-location' licence is required costing £28 per system and is available to purchase on www.JFMG.co.uk.
 - You can check the availability in your location by calling Audio-Technica or going to www.JFMG.co.uk.
 - The frequencies are set aside for your personal use only, ensuring the best protection against interference.
- F band - TV channel 70 - Up to 4 systems.
 - No licence is required when using these systems.
 - The F band frequencies are used by other domestic products like baby monitors and wireless speakers, so there is no protection against interference.
